“The financial strength of the AFSH’s balance sheet is solid. With the improving stock market and the continued generosity of our colleagues, the AFSH is well positioned for meeting its goals and mission. Careful oversight of our current assets under management will enable the AFSH to continue funding our well-recognized initiatives. As we expand the breadth of work undertaken by the AFSH, future increased assets may be required, although, this need would be correlated to a potentially exciting and wider vision of the AFSH activities.”

— Arnold-Peter C. Weiss, MD, AFSH Treasurer
